Notes
Mount and Rider training prices may be discounted 5-20% according to your reputation with the appropriate faction.
The Mount system was redesigned in patch 1.12.1, 2006/09/26. Added Apprentice and Journeyman ranks; reversed the cost structure.
The Mount system was revised again with the Burning Crusade release. Added Expert and Artisan riding and flying mounts at Level 70
The Mount system was revised in patch 2.4.3 2008/07/15 to reduce apprentice riding to level 30 from 40. Price reduced from 90 to 35g.
The PvP Honor system was redesigned in patch 2.0.1 2006/12/05. Mount price is now PvP Honor Tokens; eg: 30 from each Battleground
Flying Mounts "can only be summoned in Outland or Northrend"
Flying Mounts cannot be summoned in Northrend until Cold Weather Flying is trained at Level 77
Although each race has a primary mount, other race or faction mounts may be bought if local reputation is Exalted (good luck with that!)
Paladins and Warlocks have quests at level 30 (and 60) to obtain their mounts.
Druids have quests at levels 68 and 70 for their flight forms. Druids have flight at Level 68 and can enter Tempest Keep and flight-only zones.
Deathknights get their fast mount during initial DK training, from a simple quest, "Into the Realm of Shadows", from Salanar the Horseman
Information on Turtle and other TCG mounts: http://entertainment.upperdeck.com/wow/en/news/article.aspx?aid=1243
The [Winged Steed of the Ebon Blade], Deathknight Flying mount, says, "Speed Scales to riding skill"
Patch 3.0.2 (2008/10/14) introduced mount Achievements such as, "Leading the Cavalry" (own 75 mounts) with mount rewards
Use of your flying mounts in Northrend requires [Cold Weather Flying] training (77/225), 1000g from Hira Snowdawn, Dalaran (and some others)
